Keywords— Education, young people, success, confidence.

1. INTRODUCTION

When we say education, we mean school, students, teachers and so in. Today, all attention is focused on young people, and, of course, education is very essential for them to take their place in the future and contribute to our country. Everything is closely linked. At the heart of this are only noble goals.

2. MAIN PART

In other words, education is the most significant stage in the spiritual and potential development of the younger generation. The conditions created by President Shavkat Mirziyoyev are increasing day by day. In participate, all modern equipment serves for the effective learning of students. Only young people can take advantage of these opportunities and learn. Because it has been known since ancient times that our great thinkers received every science with great difficulty.

There was no mobile equipment, no internet, and no expensive equipment. However, because of their love for science, they did not spare their efforts. For example, Alisher Navoi, Babur, Mashrab and at the same time our Jadids, who lived and worked in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries, sacrificed their lives for the Motherland. This means that the future must be created in the same way by studying and respecting history. This requires a lot of knowledge, research and effort. As mentioned above, there are all the opportunities for education at the moment. For instance, after-school classes are available for a variety of extra curricular activities. There you can study in any field. Moreover, a variety of training center, sports clubs are always ready for young people.

In addition, five critical initiatives were launched to raise the morale of young people and the meaningful organization of their leisure time.

The first initiative is to increase the interest and talent of young people in music, painting, literature, theatre and other arts.

The second initiative is aimed at creating the necessary conditions for young people to exercise and show their abilities in sports. Initiative 3 aims to promote the effective use of computer technology and the internet among the population and youth. Initiative 4 is aimed at raising the morale of young people and organizing systematic work to promote reading among them.

The latest initiative addresses the issue of women's employment. The main goal of this project is to guide young people in the right direction, to support them, to create a place for them in the future as a person needed by their country and family members. There are such a lot of initiatives and projects with ever-going numbers. Another project aimed at raising one of the innovative ideas of the period, in order to not fall behind. These initiatives will be done will not diminish the capabilities of young people. The depth can be seen in one of the pressing issues. For all issues especially, the future life related to young people in general. It will be more effective to begin these initiatives in a very early age, from the first grade in order to have expected result. Nowadays schools has already began to use it in a practice. And these tendencies showed its' positive results. We can see it that children are more active have more interests to study.

Each initiatives has Its own responsibilities. It helps children to clarify their ways related to their interests, abilities and talents. The more we talk about initiatives, the less. Each decision and project has its own important tasks. Take, for example, the five initiatives listed above which aim to help people find solutions to their problems and use them effectively. Nowadays, the opinion of young people is not left out. Many projects are being implemented with their views in mind. Various forums and seminars are examples of this. For example, at a meeting between the governor and the youths, young people get answers to all their questions. And this meeting was also organized to address issues related to education. Through this meetings, young people can show more of their talents. Young scientists do not emerge spontaneously. The role of teachers and coaches is invaluable. Because they focus all their efforts on the education of children. However, this profession is difficult. When it comes to young scientists, they have a number of opportunities to bring out their own creations and projects. For example, Information Technology devices, smart robots, all this is emerging through the aspirations of young people.

As technology develops around the world, young people in Uzbekistan are showing their talents. But this needs to be further improved and persuade. One of the most popular projects is the "Young Readers' "choice. The book is the greatest wealth that enhances a person's spirituality. Especially education is unimaginable without books. The main purpose of the competition is to increase the literacy of young people, to promote reading among them. As technology advances the demand for books is declining. The reason is that all young people prefer to use e-books. But this choice was able to attract a lot of young people. Most importantly, there a number of changes in education.

Demand for the book is growing more than in previous years. This means that such choices need to be increased. Because it can be a huge motivation. School is a place of knowledge . The children is brought up by the school from childhood to adulthood . Education is also provided at school. Not only education but also upbringing is closely related to the develops of the child. The number of kindergartens , schools and universities in Uzbekistan is growing day by day. For instance, The Muhammad Yusuf School of Creativity, the Presidential and Beruni Boarding Schools, all of which can fully meet State standards. The increase in the number of higher education institutions will lead to a further increase in the number of young professionals. Since 2019, schools have been operating on the basis of 11-year education system. Since the implementation of this project in practice, the results of the rating of young people have grown. The aim is to prevent various crimes among young people. And all the attention is focused in science , on the books. Consistent measures are being taken in our country to raise the education system to a new level, improve the quality of teacher training on the basis of advanced international standards and increase the level of coverage with higher pedagogical education. In particular, in order to meet the growing demand for highly qualified specialists in a timely manner in connection with the increase in the coverage of preschool education, the introduction of the 11-year general secondary education system and the expansion of higher education . In recent years,1 foreign and 4 local higher education institutions specializing in the training of teachers have been established , and joint educational programs with foreign countries in this field have been established.

At the same time, the results of analysis of the supply of highly qualified personal for the social sphere and the economy , first of all , strengthen the focus on the quality of training for education, the widespread introduction of advanced foreign experience in the field , pedagogical education infrastructure indicates the need for improvement. Further improvement of the field of pedagogical education, the provision of professional teachers to train highly qualified specialists with the skills to apply modern knowledge and pedagogical technologies, to make a worthy contribution to the socio-economic development of the country , the introduction of advanced educational technologies . In order to implement the tasks set out in the Adress of the President of the Republic of the Uzbekistan to the Oliy Majlis of January 24,2020.

3. CONCLUSION

In short, we young people should be proud to live in such a land . After all, it is our duty to raise the flag of Uzbekistan and protect the honour of our country.
