INTRODUCTION

1. Information crisis
2. Fighting information attacks

An information attack can be described as an information war. You say that he will not harm a human being! ONG says that when he is in the whirlpool of influence, or more precisely, when he is defeated, he is the strongest of all, he is not afraid of anyone. Even from death! When a human being enjoys a little spirituality and enlightenment, a pure soul enters his heart, his heart softens, his love shines, he becomes kind... This means that ONG has won. He is not interested in the thousands and millions of "bad" news on the Internet, and gambling is all about money. The first President Islam Karimov wrote in his book "High spirituality is an invincible force": "We must bring up our children in the spirit of love for the motherland, our rich history, devotion to the sacred religion of our ancestors. and we need to strengthen ideological immunity in the mind. So that our young people can become people who have a deep understanding of their national identity, as well as the world, and keep pace with the times. Then neither the "call" of the ignorant fanatics nor the ideas that reject the notion of morality, which are completely foreign to us, will be able to influence them. " When you read some information on the Internet, you are amazed. After all, never be a snake, bees do not collect venom! Will, a 73-year-old Australian, married his sick cat... Why, a Norwegian man behaved like a zombie and threw himself at passengers... Why, the number of same-sex marriages is growing in France... What, in a country like this? married z sister z "Information is a miracle, charm, philosophy." This book by Khurshid Dostmuhammedov, a lecturer at the Faculty of International Journalism at the University of World Languages of Uzbekistan, Doctor of Philology, begins with the words: "Information is the cause of all changes and innovations in people's lives and in the world in general! What is information, what is its nature, wisdom, and miracles? What other days can he put on a man or humanity today or tomorrow? Which streets are you most likely to take to? " These are the questions that are asked to every awake heart, to the future, to our spirituality, to our enlightenment, to our values. Let's look for the answer in ourselves, in our hearts. Here are some suggestions from that book: "Hurry up! More! More productive! humanity is ruled by the motto ". "It simply came to our notice then. "Is it the 'information age', the age of the victims of incomprehensible chaos?" "Man knows where he is going." These lines of life, made up of the yeast of life's wisdom, philosophy, and wisdom, did not, so to speak, come into being by themselves, but simply fell on paper. Teacher, praise be to you!

METHODS

Today, there is not a single region left without an information attack. Whether you like it or not, it's not a doubt or suspicion. Oh my gosh, Spider Web has taken over the world! Do you shout, do you shout, how much is possible ?! Worst of all, 90 percent of today's young generation is a "slave" to the Internet. Young people play the game they want, get used to it, suppress their humor, get a special "pleasure"... However, at the moment there are more than 9,000 erotic content on the Internet, which promotes suicide. There are more than 4,000 sites. While 49 percent of online games are aimed at promoting violence and evil, and 42 percent at promoting the "vices" of pornography through the online system of children and adolescents xalqaro International experts estimate that 38 percent of children worldwide are victims of child abuse. sites, and 28 percent of children regularly visit nationalist websites. How much does the Internet affect the morale of young people? 'P is being written, so much is being said, but it's still not diminishing. It is impossible to ignore the fact that there are some young people who are addicted to computers, poisoning their minds and wasting their lives, especially their youth. It is necessary to tell, to investigate. If parents say it, say it in school, say it in college, high school or university, say it, swear it, criticize it, it's over, so any young person will turn away from this path. If necessary, it would be a good idea to include one or two hours a week in schools or colleges called "Information Security" or "Information"! The sultan of medicine, Abu Ali Ibn Sina, did not write these lines in vain: "Particular attention should be paid to keeping the child's behavior in order, which is achieved by protecting the child from severe anger, fear, and insomnia. Anger heats up, grief weakens, sadness tends to be careless. As a result of moderation, both the soul and the body become healthy. " It is no exaggeration to say that the Internet has set fire to the information crisis, the information storm, the information world, the information "war". There is only one force that can stop this war, it is this spirituality, this enlightenment, this belief, this belief... We call it "Khamsa", "Last Days", "Sarob", "Starry Nights". , "Between Two Doors", "Silence", "World Affairs", "Fergana until dawn" - we must look for masterpieces. As long as we have a book in our hands, the Internet reaches our hearts and minds through our bodies. "The Internet attracts everyone," said Sheikh Abdulaziz Mansurov, deputy chairman of the Muslim Board of Uzbekistan. "Well, if you use it for good, it's light upon light." But... Recently, a book by Abu Nasr al-Farabi was translated from Turkish into Uzbek. We do not have this book in our country. The Turkish version is correct, but not as in the brochure. This book was brought to me for editing. I said, find the Arabic. Then I took a risk and searched the Internet, and there was Arabic! This is now the real benefit, the importance of the internet! But... no one can guarantee that there will be no cases on the Internet of foreign savage, violent, prostitute movies, poisoning the minds of young people, changing them, or undermining Islam? "Today, many children are addicted to the Internet," said Mavjudahon Uralova, a senior lecturer at FarSU. - Monitor your child's mood swings after going online, and if you notice anxiety, restlessness, fatigue, anorexia, it means that your child is developing an Internet addiction. - The problem is enough, - says Professor H. Dostmuhammedov, - there is enough power to solve it, to find a solution to any problem. It's us! It is world experience, advanced traditions! It is our eternal value! It is our priceless independence!

Where does the pace of development, the rush syndrome, take humanity? For enlightenment, for good, or for evil? Can humanity find a way to avoid falling from the heights of progress that it has created, achieved and is achieving? Worst of all, the task is beyond his control. What is salvation if it goes out of its way? More enlightenment, spirituality, culture and morality! "The struggle for human consciousness is intensifying in the world," said Professor Fayzulla Muminov, Candidate of Philological Sciences. In this context, the preservation of the historically rich inner world of the citizens of Uzbekistan, their life position enriched by the harmony of universal and national values, the ideas of independence and spirituality is becoming an urgent problem. - It is no secret that social networks such as Facebook, Odnoklassniki, Instagramm, Twitter, Whatsapp are trying to poison the minds and hearts of young people, - says the Tashkent Financial Institute. and coaches "Nuriddin Ochilov. - Although it is bitter, it should be noted that instead of spending their free time in libraries, workshops and gyms, young people who are unknowingly interested in harmful information on the Internet are extremist, missionary groups and Who guarantees that the information disseminated by "political organizations" will not be influenced? These are everyone's task and problem. These are the anxieties of the conscious being, the point of pain. Honored Cultural Worker of Uzbekistan Kutlibeka Rakhimbayeva has a wonderful saying: "We are a people who know how to speak." After all, we are a nation that can read, write, hear, see, and think. Especially if our young people can choose and distinguish what to read, what to write, what to hear, what to see, what to take. State youth policy is always in practice. In our Uzbekistan, the policy of resolute struggle to protect young people from information attacks is constant on the agenda. Young people in our country are always cared for, supported and cared for. They are under the protection of our state, in high confidence. At present, 32% or 10 million of our population are under 30 years old. In his speech, the President of the Republic of Uzbekistan Shavkat Mirziyoyev expressed great confidence in our youth and said: "We will resolutely pursue the state youth policy. Not only will we continue, but we will raise this policy to the highest level we need today. We will mobilize all the forces and capabilities of our state and society for the development and happiness of our young people as independent thinkers, with high intellectual and spiritual potential, who will not be idle to their peers in any field around the world. . ». Young people, young people and young people again... They are our tomorrow, our future. Let's entrust our free and prosperous Motherland, our independent country to them.
